Lutheran Hospital

Hospital History

The Hospital was dedicated on Thanksgiving Day in 1904. On December 26, 1904, twenty-six patients were being accommodated. A training school for nurses in connection with the Hospital with a three-year course was organized at the same time. The first pupil nurse entered the school December 1, 1904. All these above mentioned dates remind us of great things which the Lord has done and they call for words and deeds of thanks and praise.

It soon became evident that the Hospital was too small and could not accommodate the increasing amount of patients and it was decided to build a new and larger hospital and the ground was broken for the same on May 23, 1905. The cornerstone was laid on July 28, 1905. The work was now hastened and in the following year, on Aug. 5, 1906, the new building was dedicated in the presence of a large audience.

The old hospital building was now used as a residence for the nurses. The increasing amount of patients also demanded more nurses and as the new hospital was crowded, the association, after due deliberation, decided in 1913 to purchase the Judge Alden Homestead, a large modern residence adjoining the Hospital to the north, for a nurses' home, and again used the first hospital for patients. In 1914, an addition of eighteen rooms was built to the nurses' home and in 1918 the association was requested by the Government to train more nurses for Government service and build another addition to the Nurses' Home. The home now has accommodation for seventy-eight nurses. The first class from the training school, seven in number, graduated in November, 1907. An Alumnae Association composed of graduates from the school was organized Nov. 10, 1910, and meets every month in the Nurses' Home.

Miss Lena Schneider, the first surgical nurse, left in 1907. Miss Anna Holtman was surgical nurse from Nov. 1, 1911, until August, 1916. She was succeeded by Miss Lucy Lauman Oct. 1, 1916. Miss Minnie Walker, the first principal, remained until November, 1908. She was succeeded on Dec. 1, 1908, by Miss Mary B. Ludy, who remained until fall of 1911. Miss Anna Holtman was principal pro tem for several months until Miss Anna Lauman assumed her duties in August, 1912, and remained till July 1, 1919.

From a small beginning, the hospital has grown to its present size and equipment. The number of pupils is steadily increasing. Today it is one of the largest and best known schools for nurses in the city and state. The school is accredited and recognized by the State Board of Nurse Examiners. It has enlarged its curriculum, elevated its standard, broadened its scope to meet each new demand for a more complete and well rounded education for nurses.

The hospital now has sixty-one private rooms, ten semi-private rooms, four small wards, and four large wards.

During the past years, one hundred seventy-three nurses have graduated from the nurses' training school. Forty-five graduates served their country during the World War. At present there are sixty-five nurses in training.

The Hospital Ladies' Aid Society meets once every month in the nurses' home, and sews for the hospital.—A. M. H.

THE DEBRIS-ETTE

Foreword

It is with a feeling of satisfaction that the Staff of the "Debris-ette" completes its labors and submits the first Annual of the L. H. T. S. May it be worthy of our efforts!

We were unfortunate in not having a class artist and we take this opportunity to thank Dr. Rodriguez, who has greatly aided us in accomplishing our purpose, which has been to preserve in a permanent form a retrospect of our three years in training.

Commencement Day is gradually drawing nearer. We, the members of the class, who three years ago were mere probationers, realize that our journey is at an end, and that the goal which we have been striving for has been reached.

It was on March 1, 1918, that the first members of our class entered. On account of the World War, the training school was prepared to admit applicants not only in spring and fall, but at any time during the summer months. Thus it happened that when the last members of our class entered, we had a total enrollment of forty-seven, which was the largest class ever admitted in the history of the Lutheran Hospital Training School.

During the latter part of October, the tragic event, the Influenza epidemic, occurred, which affected nearly every member of our class, four of whom succumbed to the disease.

In the spring of 1919 when our class was organized we found to our disappointment that our class had been reduced to twenty-one members. Dan Cupid also played an important role by depriving us of several of our classmates.

Our only distinction, but one we feel proud of, is the publishing of the first Annual, which to us is a great undertaking.

Here the history ends with only seventeen weary, but happy, members. Our activities will remain as dim memories to some persons, but memories of the above mentioned facts will ever remain vividly before the eyes of the departing Seniors. We find it hard to depart from our Hospital and especially to sever connections with those who have been so kind, so helpful, and so patient with us during our three years of training.

We cannot but regret that those happy days are past; but we are encouraged by the hope that amid fond memories there is happiness awaiting us in the future, and in years to come when we are scattered to the ends of the Earth, whether we may be basking in the sun of prosperity or breasting the tide of adversity, then may this book bring these happy days to mind and forever link us to our training school.

The Same Old Thing

The world grows better year by year,
Because some nurse in her little sphere,
Puts on her apron and grins and sings
And keeps on doing the same old thing.

Taking temperatures, giving the pills,
To remedy mankind's numberless ills,
Feeding the babies, answering bells,
Being polite with a heart that rebels.

Longing for home and all the while,
Wearing the same old professional smile,
Blessing the new born babies' first breath,
Closing the eyes that lie still in Death.

Taking the blame for the doctor's mistakes,
Oh, dear, what a lot of patience it takes
Going off duty at seven o'clock
Tired, discouraged, just ready to drop.

Called back on special at seven-fifteen,
With woe in her heart which must not be seen,
Morning and evening, noon and night,
Just doing it over and hoping it's right.

When we lay down our caps and cross the bar,
Oh, Lord, will you give us just one little star
To wear in our crown with the uniform new
In that city above where the head nurse is You?

—E. B. FRENCH.

THE DEBRIS-ETTE

Biography of a Nurse.

Strictly Germ Proof

The Antiseptic Baby and the Prophylactic Pup
Were playing in the garden when the Bunny gamboled up;
They looked upon the creature with a loathing undisguised;
It wasn't Disinfected and it wasn't Sterilized.
They said it was a Microbe and a Hotbed of Disease.
They steamed it in a vapor of a thousand odd degrees;
They froze it in a freezer that was cold as Banished Hope,
And washed it in permanganate with carbolated soap.
In sulphurated hydrogen they steeped its wiggly ears
They trimmed its frisky whiskers with a pair of hard boiled shears;
They donned their rubber mittens and they took it by the hand,
And 'lected it a member of the Fumigated Band.
There's not a Micrococcus in the garden where they play;
They bathe in pure iodoform a dozen times a day;
And each imbibes his rations from a Hygienic Cup,
The Bunny and the Baby and the Prophylactic Pup.

The Skull

"The skull is an ovoid, shaped like an egg, and is not a perfect ellipse. The nose is on a line with the opening of the ears and the base of the cheekbone. The height of the skull is about four-fifths of its length. The length of the skull from where the brow begins is equal to the height of the skull behind. In the face, the space between the eyes is equal to the length of one eye. However, in the skull, the width of the space between the eye-sockets is less than the length of a socket."

Brain

The top floor apartment in the Human Block known as the Cranium, and kept by the Sarah Sisters—Sarah Brum and Sarah Bellum, assisted by Medulla Oblongata. All three are nervous, but are always confined to their cells. The brain is done in gray and white, and furnished with light and heat, hot or cold water (if desired), with regular connections to the outside world by way of the Spinal Circuit. Usually occupied by the Intellect Brothers—Thoughts and Ideas—as an intelligence office.

Socials

Our first year was marked by no social events due to the Influenza Epidemic. However, in our second year a better school spirit was created.

During the summer and early autumn many wiener and corn roasts were enjoyed at Foster Park, the partaking of breakfasts by the night girls at the Park were also marked attractions.

Our Hallowe'en Party given Oct. 25, 1919, was the first class party. For this purpose the attic of our home was used. The costumes furnished much of the amusement. The "spookiness" of Hallowe'en was made very grewsome by the presence of ghosts and a Fortune Teller.

So successful was the party that another one was planned by the entire training school on Oct. 30, 1919. This was held in our Parlor and Library. The Hallowe'en Spirit prevailed at this time as before.

For our last Hallowe'en Party Dr. Carey kindly offered us the use of his office building which was under construction. However, due to the absence of windows and the cold weather, it was impossible for us to accept his offer. Therefore, we spent our afternoon decorating the basement of our home. It was such a successful masquerade that even our Superintendent and Interne could not be recognized.

On April 21, 1920, the Juniors gave a Banquet in honor of the Seniors at the Wolf & Dessauer Auditorium. The hospital colors, blue and white, predominated throughout the decorations, and the tables were decorated prettily with the Senior and Junior class flowers. After the dinner the evening was spent in various forms of entertainment. This was the first social event given in honor of the graduating class.

In order to obtain funds for lawn and porch furniture for our Nurses' Home a Lawn Social was given on July 22, 1920. The days preceding the social were marked by the enormous sale of tickets. The weather favored us and the eatables were disposed of in a short time. The result was that Two Hundred Fifty-two Dollars was cleared. The training school wishes to thank everyone for his hearty co-operation and donations.

Even though we could not spend our Christmas at home, the spirit of the season was not lacking due to the thoughtfulness of our Principal and her assistants. In the center of our Reception Hall stood our tree underneath which our gifts were placed. Besides this we also received a goodly share of candy, nuts, and fruits. This last year we added to our usual amusement—each class furnishing an original entertainment.

On March 16, 1921, the entire Senior class attended the musical comedy, "Irene". For this rare privilege we are greatly indebted to the Alumnae Association. Our joys for the week were not ended by this event, for a few nights later the Class of 1920 pleasantly entertained us at a banquet, which was one of the most enjoyable evenings we have spent during our three years of training.

We hope that in the coming years the school spirit will progress and that more social events will be enjoyed by students and Faculty.

Commencement

Call this not a day of joy; 'tis that
On which we all must part;
Memories of our by-gone years
Must soothe an aching heart
Ere Father Time in swiftest flight
Numbers another year
Causes unknown may separate
Each friend from classmate dear
Make not of this a festal time;
Each hour but sounds a knell
No word to us is sadder than
That word of words—Farewell.

THE DEBRIS - E T T E

We, the class of 1921, have much to leave behind,
And the following disposition we will make,
providing you don't mind.

To the Faculty we leave our sincere thanks
and heartfelt appreciation,
For all their valuable assistance—not to mention
The stray bits regarding us they may have added to their information.

To the Senior Classes of the future
We give and bequeath our noteworthy positions—
May they be worthy of their acquisitions.
To the Junior Class we leave our titles as Seniors,
To the Freshmen our sophisticated knowledge as Seniors.
To the Probationers our regrets that they may not know us as Seniors.

To Ruth Johnson, in case of exhaustion,
Bertha Bentrup's laugh—there is plenty for auction.

To Ruby Johnson, Helen Dieckroeger's dignity.

To Ina Kempff, we give and bequeath

Clara Mosier's superfluous volubility.

To Bertha Abelein, Velma Watson's audacity,

To Edith Gappinger, Pauline Yeager's equanimity.

To Meta Bahde, Larry Nord's masculine asprity.

To Hulda Ruge, Florence VanDrew's insipidity.

To Katherine Ganshorn, Ada Fry's gentility.

To Carolyn Holiday our intern-ity.

To those in need, Anna Vonderau's intellectuality.

To Naomi Butler, Ruth Scott's sarcasticability.

To Hulda Junge, Zena Williams' verbosity.

To Minnie Retzlaff, Irlene Franz's embonpointity.

To Elsie Hopman, Luella Ritt's avoirdupoisity.

To Hedwig Mietzner, June Gray's ability for political oratory.

To Grace Sherman and Mabel Dunifon, equally divided, Elizabeth Stevens' elongicity.

To Iva Lower, Edna Kroeger's nervicity.

To Chloe VanHorn and Helen Branstrator, Gertrude Nickels' agility.

THE DEBRIS-ETTE

Snaps and Snaps.

If any of that which comes after this
Should stir your anger, hurt your pride,
Be wise and learn what you should know—
We aim to help, and not deride.
The slams in this book may seem unfair—
But it's your own fault if you're mentioned there.

A Freshie's Hope

I want to be a Senior and with the Seniors stand,
With a fountain pen behind my ear and a notebook in my hand.
I wouldn't be a President, I wouldn't be a King,
I wouldn't be an Emperor for all that wealth would bring,
I'd rather be a Senior and never do a thing.

—Ex.

Things We Would Like to Know

What Dr. Garrette includes in a "soft nourishing diet".
Why Uncle Adam's chair collapsed.
When Dr. Beall eats.
Why Dr. Carey has an acute attack of Yawning during lecture.
When Dr. McBride sings.
Why the ether machine works for Dr. Schneider and not Dr. Garrette.
Who Dr. Duemling's "little sister" is.
If balanced rations will improve Dr. Rodriguez's physique.
What has become of Dr. Dupre's time record in Goitres.
What constitutes Dr. Gross's prophylactic treatment for appendicitis.
The color of Dr. Kruse's next car.
What Dr. Glock did "one dark night".
How Dr. McBride remembers the names of his patients.
If Dr. Crull uses (strong) language.
Why Dr. Grandy adopted meal hours for taking x-ray pictures.
Miss Lucy's pre-operative treatment for appendicitis.

Dr. Duemling (in O. R.): "Gutta percha drains!"
Miss Yeager (rushing out into the work room): "Miss Lucy, where are the Galli Curci drains?"

Dr. Garrette attempts to take Jane McBride's temperature.
Jane: "Use papa's thermometer, it's more sterile."

Aspiration, mystification, probation—three months' duration.
Anticipation, hard occupation, short vacation, no cessation—
Expectation, then salvation.
In realization of the gratification of graduation.

Freshman: "How do you spell phlebitis?"
Pauline Yeager: "'Fle', I guess."

Dr. Dupre: "Anatomically, locate the kidneys."
Miss Bentrup: "They are situated behind the spinal cord."

THE DEBRIS - ETTE

Why Not Smile?

The thing that goes the farthest
Toward making life worth while,
That costs the least and does the most,
Is just a pleasant smile.
The smile that bubbles from the heart,
That loves its fellow men,
Will drive away the cloud of gloom.
It's full of worth and goodness, too.
With manly kindness blent,
It's worth a million dollars,
And doesn't cost a cent.—Ex.

Miss B.: "What do you intend to do after graduation?"
Miss Nord: "Oh! nothing much, but plan my clothes."

Waiter: "Are you a German?"
Customer: "No, but I'm Hungary."
Waiter: "Then I cannot Serbia."—Ex.

Junior: "What is the formula for 70 percent alcohol?"
Senior: "We'll ask Mr. Peters."

Dr. Dupre interviews patient who is somewhat deaf.
To patient: "My name is Dr. Dupre."
Patient: "What?"
Dr. Dupre: "I am Dr. Dupre."
Patient: "When do I pray?"

I'm supposed to be an automatic machine,
Wound up for three years,
Never tired or sleepy or out of sorts,
Above all, never nervous, no matter what I hear, see or smell.
I am never unmoved, unconscious, attending only to my duties,
Gentle as a lamb, patient as Job, wise as Solomon,
Strong as Samson, thick skinned as a rhinoceros,
I am above all human weakness—
I am a student nurse.

A Post (Mortem) Script

Mr. Bronson died very suddenly and an important business letter was left unmailed.

Before sending it off, his secretary, who was Irish and had a passion for explanatory detail, added the following postscript below Mr. Bronson's signature:
"Since writing the above I have died."—Ex.

THE DEBRIS-ETTE

Treatment Fitting the Case

"What are you treating me for, doctor?"

"Loss of memory. You have owed me a bill of $60 for two years."—Ex.

A professor, who had been a little too exacting with a student at an examination on chemistry, asked, as a final question, "Can you tell me anything at all about prussic acid?"

"Yes," replied the student, "it is a deadly poison. One drop on the end of your tongue would kill a dog."—Ex.

Mother's Ologies

Daughter: "Yes, I've graduated, but now I must inform myself in psychology, philology, bibli—"

Practical mother: "Stop! I have arranged for you a thorough course in roastology, bakeology, stitchology, darnology, patchology, and a general domestic hustleology."—Ex.

LOST—By surgical procedure, one painful bunion from Miss Lucy's left foot.

Dr. Duemling wants one more sponge, on the operative field, than he can use if he lives to be one hundred.—(By special request.)

"All sponges soaked in blood,, etc., must be carefully separated, made little green apples."

"To retract means to hold back."

"..... This isn't a Sunday school class."

"Good morning!!!!"

"Come on, little sister, a little more speed."

"Just like the float mother used to make."

"Count your sponges, ties, peritoneal closure" (simultaneously).

(Excerpts from Dr. Duemling's operative conversation)

Do's and Don'ts

DO'S—FOR NURSES:

Always pour medicines opposite labels.

A place for everything and everything in its place.

Do not go to and from the hospital without a wrap.

(Penalty is forfeit of two (2) half days.)

Study hour from 7:30 to 8:30 p. m.—every evening.

Silence always.

DON'TS—FOR NURSES, TOO:

Don't congregate in corridors.

Don't receive telephone calls while on duty.

Don't forget to register your incomings and outgoings.

Don't forget the study hour, nor its purpose.

Don't forget the 10:15 gong.

Don't forget the Do's!
